

FOOTHILLS INFECTIOUS DISEASES SEMINAR SERIES 2011-2012

Don't Miss!

Northern Colorado is a hub for infectious disease research related to human, domestic animal, and wildlife health. Come hear local and national disease experts share their knowledge and discuss cutting-edge research as part of a special seminar series hosted by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Colorado State University (CSU), and the USDA National Wildlife Research Center (NWRC). The monthly seminars are held from 3-4pm (MST) with locations alternating between CSU's Research Innovation Center (3195 Rampart Rd.) and the NWRC*(4101 LaPorte Ave.), both located on the CSU Foothill Campus in Fort Collins, Colorado.
