Call for Submission

To all interested undergraduates,

Colorado State University is pleased to announce the creation of JUR: Journal of Undergraduate Research and Scholarly Excellence. Overseen by the Office for Undergraduate Research and Artistry at Colorado State University, JUR combines undergraduate and faculty involvement to create a cooperative approach to the peer review process. This Library of Congress-registered publication is an exciting opportunity for undergraduates to showcase their original work. Since we accept submissions from all disciplines of undergraduate study from any accredited institution of higher education, JUR is a truly unique journal. Submissions may include original research, abstracts, editorials, reviews, or other creative works. Undergraduate associate editors, peer reviewers, and faculty reviewers will rigorously review each submission. All research submissions must include a signed letter of notification from the faculty advisor to ensure that research is not inappropriately or prematurely published. You will find the relevant information and deadlines below. Pending the quality and volume of the submissions we receive, the first issue of JUR is to be published in Fall 2010. On behalf of the entire staff of the Journal of Undergraduate Research and Scholarly Excellence, I invite your submissions to the journal.

Most Sincerely,

Jessica Egner, Editor-in-Chief
